SAMPLE MENU

OUR STORY

Botiwalla is Chef Meherwan Irani's homage to his life long love of kababs and Irani Cafes.

Irani Cafes were originally tea and kabab houses run by Irani Zoroastrians that emigrated from Persia to India in the late 19th and early 20th century (Meherwan's great-grandfather Sheriar Irani was one of those immigrants). With a strange and wonderful mash-up of Victorian decor and Indian sensibilities, they catered to the English colonialists' love of high tea and afternoon snacks.

After the British left India, Irani Cafes survived, adapting their menus to Indian tastes, serving a unique style of Indo-Persian (Parsi) cuisine that often included kababs, and becoming some of the most iconic and revered dining institutions along the way.

This is a sample menu, subject to change based on location.
